

FRANdata's Newly Discovered Franchise Concepts Vol2 for 2016

For more than 25 years, FRANdata has monitored and tracked all franchise systems operating in the United States (and some abroad too!) We have a team of information specialists who gather and verify information about every company that touches franchising, from established, sophisticated national franchise brands to start-ups who have a good idea and are looking to grow.

The quarterly New Concept Report provides a basic profile of those franchise brands that we discover for the first time each quarter. For the most part, these brands are start-ups, though there are few each quarter who may have been operating quietly in a local area for a few years before they make it onto our radar. Some of the start-ups are only new brands names and business concepts for existing well-established companies.

The NCR and the brands contained in it are often a valuable target for startup investors, suppliers of startup products and services, and trade groups. The information provided for each brand is intended to give a supplier enough information to decide if they want to learn more. The profile qualifies the lead and allows your sales and marketing teams to add this franchise to your targeted brand list. Besides the profile of each company, the NCR also identifies the executive management team by name and job code.*

Much more information about specific brands or brands that meet your specific target prospect criteria are available upon request. Just ask!
